

STEP event success

Forth Valley training organisation STEP was delighted with the success of their first ever ILA Scotland open day held recently.

Over 50 people came along to the Stirling-based enterprise company's event, which was aimed at encouraging people to learn more while using ILA Scotland funding.

Those who came along to the STEP event were given the opportunity to take part in confidence building sessions, sign up for a wide range of different course or get their ILA Scotland applications underway.

ILA Scotland approved courses on offer at the centre in Stirling Enterprise Park include PC Passport, ECDL (European Computer Driving Licence), Sage Accounting and First Class Confidence.

Event organisers Kristeen Carroll and Caroline Brown said the response had exceeded their expectations.

"The people who came along were very focussed about what they wanted from the event. They knew what they wanted to learn and were keen to find out where and when they could begin and how they could get the ILA Scotland funding," said Caroline, STEP's marketing officer.

She added: "The open day was so successful that we have decided to have an 'open door' session every Tuesday, so people can call in to our offices and find out more about the ILA Scotland courses on offer."

More details about STEP's open door sessions are available from Caroline Brown at STEP on 01786 463416 or by emailing her at cbrown@stirling-enterprise.co.uk.
