

it pays to learn

ILA Scotland removal of minimum contribution

People who plan on using their ILA Scotland to help pay for learning received a boost in January.

Previously, learners had to contribute a minimum of £10 towards the cost of their courses when using their ILA Scotland. This is no longer the case thanks to this change in Scottish Government regulations

It's hoped that by removing the minimum payment, more people will sign up for an ILA Scotland and get involved in learning.

Help us to cascade this message out to the learners you work with by including this information in newsletters and ordering new materials on 01738 633 322 or by emailing stock@ppd-pinpoint.co.uk.